

Family Handout

Research your own patron saints using the list of saints in this handout and other available reference materials. Record information about your patron saints on the worksheet that can then be used at home.

A Posse of Patron Saints

The saints are our companions on life's journey and can be our guides in following Jesus. Within the Communion of Saints—all of those, dead or living, who have been saved in Jesus Christ—each of us has particular saints who are watching out for us. We call those special saints our patron saints.

What Is a Patron Saint?

Here on earth, "patrons" are people who give a lot of support and encouragement to certain causes or groups they really know, love, and care about. Saints are heavenly patrons. They give special care to people, places, professions, and institutions. They often are patrons of things that were important to them in life, but they can become patrons for other reasons too. A saint will be your patron if you just ask!

Examples of Patron Saints

Saint Jerome is the patron saint of libraries because he wrote translations of great theologians, histories, and biographies. That means that if you are a librarian or doing some work at a library, Saint Jerome is especially watching out for you. Or maybe you have a headache that just won't quit. Saint Teresa of Ávila is the one to pray with because she used to have extreme migraine headaches. You might be named after a saint. If so, that person is your patron saint. What's the name of your parish? That person is your patron saint because you are part of the parish that bears his or her name.

God and the Saints

We are always in God's presence and can relate to God directly through Jesus. But from time to time, it's nice to have models of people who struggled like you and me in our common goal of following Jesus. Having patron saints or asking a saint for help is not about giving glory to that particular person but about giving glory to God. We ask the saints for their help so that we might better know, love, and serve God. The saints are not people who would want to replace God or to be "hero-worshiped," because they recognized that their whole life was a gift from God. We also recognize that our life is a gift from God, and we pray that everything we do gives glory to God.
